

BMRI — BURNING MAN RAVE INTELLIGENCE

2026 Field Guide

Every Established and Emerging artist's real bio/discovery intel and confirmed set times, camps, and locations — plus a curated set of Wildcards worth a look — from the 2026.1.0-seed RSL dataset. One offline reference, no app required.

Generated 2026-08-29 from the same normalized dataset the BMRI app uses. Nothing here is invented — a blank field means the data isn't known yet, not that it's bad.

How to use BMRI

Signal status is a fact about the artist, independent of any recommendation: Established — a documented, independent music career. Emerging — a real, smaller catalogue. Unknown — no external signal found yet. Unknown does not mean bad — it means undocumented.

Discovery role (used in the app, not printed per-entry here) is a judgment, not a fact: Strong Match fits your stated taste closely. Discovery is adjacent to it. Wildcard is a deliberate stretch — limited signal, but musically or schedule-wise interesting.

Locations are the original RSL address strings (e.g. "3:00 & E") where given. Camp placement is reassigned every year — treat any address as approximate.

Denton

FUNK / DISCO · DJ
New York City, New York, United States

Matt Denton grew up in small-town Tennessee and moved to New York City in 2009 during the U.S. dance-music boom. He started DJing after a friend encouraged him to share his music library, and his first-ever DJ set was at Burning Man around 2013 — an experience he has described as reconnecting him with his inner child. He is a key figure in The GlamCocks, a DJ collective that grew out of a Burning Man sunset-party camp into a multi-city party production crew across NYC, Fire Island Pines, LA, San Francisco, and DC.

BURNING MAN HISTORY First-ever DJ set was at Burning Man circa 2013; key figure of The GlamCocks, a DJ collective that originated as a Burning Man camp hosting sunset parties around 2013 before expanding into a multi-city party crew.

Playa Address Legend

Black Rock City is addressed like a clock face: hour = direction from the Man, ring letter = distance out. This is the real 2026 street layout (ring names and radii from Burning Man's own GIS data) — not a personalized map. It won't show you where any specific act is; it shows you how to read an address like "3:00 & E" once you have one.

- K · Kundalini
- J · Jiba
- I · Iroko
- H · Heiau
- G · Great Oak
- F · Fulcrum
- E · Eternal
- D · Delphi
- C · Ceiba
- B · Bodhi
- A · Ararat
- ESP · Esplanade

Rings run outward from the Esplanade (closest to the Man) to Kundalini (farthest). City streets span roughly 2:00 to 10:00 — 12:00 and 6:00 are shown only for orientation, not addressable street.

Wildcards (138 of 1033 unknown-signal artists)

Unknown does not mean bad — it means BMRI hasn't found external signal for them yet. These 138 have at least a preliminary research note; the other 895 unknown-signal artists have nothing beyond a name and a set time — browse the full roster in the app's Browse Artists screen.

GENRE NOT YET TAGGED · UNKNOWN

Unknown

The only clear match under this handle is Marc Ruxin, a music writer/curator who publishes year-end "Bestest" listening roundups on Medium and runs Spotify playlists, not a performing DJ/producer, so this is likely a name collision rather than the Burning Man artist's own catalogue.

Yaku Means Water

GENRE NOT YET TAGGED · UNKNOWN
Tulum, Quintana Roo, Mexico

Yaku Means Water is a Colombian-born, Tulum-based artist with over 20 years of artistic exploration, known for hybrid DJ sets that blend South American roots with cross-cultural, ritual-driven dancefloor rhythms. He is a regular performer in Tulum's electronic scene (Vagalume, Sundaze x TLT, CENOTIKA) and has been billed to perform at Burning Man.

BURNING MAN HISTORY A mix titled "DHTM Mix Series 097 - Yaku means Water (Live From Burning Man 2025)" was released via Deep House Tulum, indicating a Burning Man 2025 set.
